

Client Facing Marketing Executives (London based)

Being an employee at M12 Solutions has many benefits:

- The freedom and confidence to grow
- Your contribution is valued and rewarded
- Teamwork and collaboration are supported
- Complete control of your personal development
- A vibrant working environment
- The opportunity to work with clients who have entrusted us with complex and cutting edge telecoms solutions

M12 Solutions are looking to immediately employ 3 well-presented client facing marketing executives.

You will be educated to degree standard and your role will be to articulately present updates of our well proven connectivity technologies to existing and new client opportunities.

You will be provided with induction and ongoing training as well as many business tools to help you be productive and efficient. You will be expected to be involved in all associated areas of marketing activity from article writing, campaigns, social media and collateral to build the aura of M12 Solutions as the best provider of Telecoms and Internet Connectivity for the markets we serve.

You would be expected to be a free thinker, very hard worker and be an excellent communicator. With your confidence and expert knowledge (from our training) you are expected to quickly succeed in this fast moving sector.

The package range for this role is £35k to £60k per annum with excellent opportunities for promotion.
